1.1 Important Clauses

If you are a consumer, as defined in the Consumer Protection Act 68 of 2008 ("Consumer Protection Act") we have a duty to point out certain important terms to you. The paragraphs which contain these important terms and reasons why they are important are set out below.

1.1.1 Limitation of risk, legal responsibilities and liability. Clauses 11, 14 and 17 are important because they limit and exclude obligations, liabilities and legal responsibilities that we may otherwise have to you. As a result of these clauses, your rights and remedies against us and these other persons and entities are limited and excluded. These clauses also limit and exclude your right to recover or make claims for losses, damages, liability or harm you or others may suffer. These paragraphs states that you know and accept that the Internet is not absolutely secure and there is a risk that your Personal Information will not be secure when transmitting over the Internet.

1.1.2 Assumption of risk, legal responsibilities and liability by you. Clauses 14 and 17 are important because you take on risk, legal responsibilities and liability. As a result of these clauses, you may also be responsible for claims and other amounts. You will also be responsible for, and you accept, various risks, damages, harm, and injury which may be suffered by you and others for what is stated in these clauses. These clauses waive your rights, and as a result, we may not have to perform our duties and you may not become aware of information that you may need to protect yourself.

1.1.3 Acknowledgements of fact by you. Clauses 3, 8 and, 9.2 are important because they each contain statements which are acknowledgements of fact by you. You will not be able to deny that the statements are true. We may take action against you and may have claims against you as a result of these statements. You will not be able to take any action against us if you suffer harm as a result of these statements.
